

About the author

Steven Agar

Summers running and hiking in the Lake District, UK. Winters skiing in Winter Park, CO, USA

Join Colorado's First and Only Private Ski Resort for Just $3.2-Million | But Hurry, Places are Limited!

Steven Agar | September 6, 2018 | Industry News

Like 37 Share

Credit: CMC

Colorado isn't short of playgrounds for the rich and famous. Aspen, Vail, Beaver Creek, Telluride to name a few. But none of those are anything in comparison to the Cimarron Mountain Club, Colorado's first and only private ski resort, which launched in the San Juan Mountains earlier this month and will be fully operational for the 2018/19 season.

A membership cost of $3.2 million per family (with yearly fees between $55,000 and $65,000) is limited to just 13 families (with 7 spots already taken) and includes access to 1,750-acres of skiable terrain, more than Aspen Mountain, across 80 runs with 1,610-feet of vertical.

So, if you're interested, what will that $3.2 million get you? A 35-acre parcel of land, upon which you can build the ski chalet of your dreams, as well as access to 60+ ski runs spread over 1,000 powdery private acres. Or, for the more 'budget-minded' you have the option to not build your own mega mansion and instead bed down at the three-bedroom Club Cabin or in one of two luxury yurts.

"Private ski resorts are the new private jet," Jack Ezon, president of Ovation Vacations, a Virtuoso Ltd. travel agency, told Bloomberg about the increasing popularity of properties like CMC. "They give luxury travelers a hassle-free, line-free experience, so they can focus more attention on their family and travel partners."

First tracks every day. Credit: CMC

And of course, members will be able to use the club and the mountain all year long with hiking, 15 stocked ponds and a 20-acre mountain lake on property ready to explore, along with a planned three-mile singletrack mountain bike loop for tons of summer fun.

Share this:

Share 37

Posted by Steven Agar | September 6, 2018

Related Articles

Premium Scuba Gear and More

Ad Extreme Exposure

Steamboat, CO Terrain Expansion...

snowbrains.com

View Pricing & More Online

Ad Irvine Pacific

5 Runs You Need to Ski...

snowbrains.com

Four Seasons Philadelphia

Ad Four Seasons Hotels

The Proposed British Columbia...

snowbrains.com

The 9 Most Dangerous...

snowbrains.com

Top 11 United States Ski Resorts...

snowbrains.com

One thought on "Join Colorado's First and Only Private Ski Resort for Just $3.2-Million | But Hurry, Places are Limited!"

Benjamin says:
September 6, 2018 at 7:22 am

This is totally disgusting. A private ski resort? Really? This kind of elite non sense was tried at Echo Mountain Ski Area and failed a few years ago. What this says is: We do not not want to ski with the riff raf. We are the 1% elite and want nothing to do with the average person. As the predictions of Peter Schiff become more and more true every day this is just one more indicator of those predictions. Peter Schiff warned of the crash of 2006 to 2010 that we still feel today long before it happened. As a result of that crash the economy is changed. Prices for everything will go up non stop while wages are poor never matching the high percentage growth. The average person will be left with less purchasing power each year.

Reply

Leave a Reply

Your email address will not be published.

Comment

Name

Email

Website

Notify me of follow-up comments by email.

Notify me of new posts by email.

Post Comment